

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

DEPTH OF FOULNESS.

Mrs. I. W. Pack Brings Suit for $10,000 Damages

AGAINST SUPT. JAMES H. MCCASKEY

For Slandering Remarks About Her Character—Another Villainous Menace Connected With McCaskey's Administration of the Insane Asylum.

Mrs. Emma D. Pack, the matron of the state insane asylum, today began a suit for $10,000 damages against Superintendent J. H. McCaskey, on the ground of malicious slander and damage to her reputation. The petition mentions Auditor Van B. Prather and Mrs. Dr. Kniberg, who have been among those to whom Dr. McCaskey said damaging and wanton things. She alleges that the remarks in question were made for the purpose of causing her to lose her position. There are two causes of action included in the petition. The first one states:

"That on or about the first day of March, 1894, at the State Insane Asylum in Topeka, the defendant maliciously, wantonly, wickedly and slanderously, of and concerning the plaintiff, to one Mrs. Dr. Anna Kniberg, did utter certain false, slanderous and defamatory words, to the effect that Mrs. Pack had an unmentionable disease, and that he had given her medicine for it."

"That on or about the first day of March, 1894, at the office of the state auditor at the state house in Topeka, the defendant did maliciously and wantonly of and about the plaintiff, to one Van B. Prather, speak and declare certain false, slanderous and defamatory words, to the effect that Mrs. Pack had an unmentionable disease."

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

The plaintiff further states that if the plaintiff in character, trust, reputation and honor of her husband, and her friends and acquaintances, for the purpose of making the plaintiff lose her honorable and lucrative position of matron.

by the rules governing all honorable physicians, never to divulge the time.

It was for the remarks with which McCaskey is quoted in the second cause of action, that he was so rudely kicked out of Auditor Prather's office. The affair created something of a sensation at the time, and Dr. McCaskey had some embarrassment in explaining that he was not defaming one of the asylum women employees. The nature of McCaskey's remarks were not printed, because they were not printable.

Dr. McCaskey's conduct in speaking in this manner of the women at the asylum would be one of the charges against him in case proceedings for removal are commenced.

VANDERPOOL IS FINED

He Got Into a Squabble With P. L. Wise, a Nickel-in-the-slot Man.

License Collector Charles L. Vanderpool was fined $5 in the police court today for disturbing the peace of P. L. Wise, the nickel-in-the-slot machine magnate.

Vanderpool has had Wise arrested for failing to pay a license on each of the machines in Topeka in which he has a partial interest. Wise had been arrested once before by Vanderpool on the same charge, and as may be imagined, their relations were somewhat strained and far from cordial.

After police court yesterday Wise and Vanderpool had an argument in front of the police headquarters. In the course of the dispute Wise said if he had bribed Vanderpool with a $5 bill like some other people he knew, he wouldn't have been arrested. Vanderpool bristled up and told Mr. Wise he was a scoundrel, and added with emphasis that he was a scoundrel.

Wise concluded the peace was disturbed and ordered Jailer Woodruff to lock him up. The case was tried in the police court today and Vanderpool was found guilty and fined $5, which he paid.

Other Cases.

William Banfield's baldness was the cause of four little boys being in the police court today charged with disturbing the peace. The boys were Roy Black, Pete and John O'Hara and Arthur Redenbaugh, and Mr. Banfield was the complaining witness against them. They all live in Parkdale. Yesterday Mr. Banfield's little boy didn't return to dinner on time and he went out to find him. He found his wandering boy in company with the defendants, and when he led the boy home the other boys followed close behind to watch him "get a licking." Mr. Banfield claims the boys threw stones at him and otherwise annoyed him, but the boys say the worst they did was to yell at him as "old baldie."

The case was continued.

Sarah Connelley, a colored woman after whom perhaps the well known brand of cigars has been named, was booked for street-walking. She wasn't walking when Officer McFadden found her in an alley last night. The man who was with her escaped. She was fined $10, and gave bond for the payment of the fine.

Josie Maybe of Smoky Row, was charged with being an inmate of a disorderly resort. She admitted it. She is a large woman with what is generally called a "baby face"—when the baby is feeling bad. She was fined $25. Maybe's friends will raise a purse to secure her release. They haven't yet.

"Rough" Ready whom Governor Lowell pardoned from the state penitentiary, is one of her admirers.

Then Judge Ensminger righted his cigar and buttoned up his vest.

SENATE SCARED INTO IT.

Senator Vilas Virtually Admits Coxey "Distress Committee" Was So Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The select committee of the "prevailing distress," which was appointed by the senate during the height of the Coxey movement, soon found itself without business. It never held but two meetings, and heard only two complaints. One of these came from Morris L. Swift, of the Boston commission, and the other from one of the leaders of the Galvin company named Ward.

Speaking of the committee today, Senator Vilas, its chairman, said that when it was called into existence there was a general feeling about the senate, that owing to the pressure of business and the persistence of the industrialists it would become necessary to formulate some measure that would in some way meet the conditions which seemed to exist.

The committee will continue in existence during the present congress, if no longer, and it may possibly be made one of the permanent committees of the senate.

THERE WAS FRAUD.

Congressional Committee Sustains Charges Against the Carnegie Company.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Representative A. J. Cummings, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, presented to the house today a preliminary report upon the investigation of the armor plate billets furnished to the government by the Carnegie steel company.

The committee finds that charges of fraud have been sustained; scores the company severely and says, as has been stated in these dispatches, that 59 suspected plates in use should be tested as the only method of proving their fitness or unfitness. It only finds that the government inspection was negligent, but no charge of dishonesty rests upon the inspectors.

David D. Michaels Dead.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—David D. Michaels died at his residence in Chicago last night aged 69 years. Mr. Michaels was born in Albany, N.Y., 1825. He came to Chicago in 1859 and connected himself with the Chicago Times. Later he was with the Inter-Ocean. For many years he was the correspondent of the New York Evening Post. He started the Daily Commercial Bulletin, which is still published.

CAPITAL OF IRELAND.

ITS POLITICAL SPLENDOR HAS DEPARTED.

Though Its Manufactories Are Now Dead, and Its Trade Paralyzed, Dublin Is Still a City of Rare Beauty—Some of the City's Historic Buildings.

On the Green Isle.

There was a time when Dublin, the capital of Ireland, was one of the most splendid capitals of Europe, and though now its political splendor is departed, its manufactures dead, and its trade paralyzed, it is still a city of rare beauty and interest. Dublin Bay, one of the finest bays in Europe or in the world, compares with the Bay of Naples for scenic beauty and charm. The river Liffey runs through the city and with its quays, as the roadway by the river is called, forms the grand thoroughfare of the city east and west, while the stately Sackville and Grafton streets run at right angles to the quays north and south. Sackville street, 120 feet wide, has few superior thoroughfares in Europe. In the center and dividing it into upper and lower Sackville street rises the Nelson monument, a fluted Doric column 134 feet high and crowned by a statue of Nelson, the hero of Trafalgar. Opposite the monument is the postoffice, a handsome structure of granite and Portland stone. Other splendid buildings are the Custom House, erected a century ago at the cost of $2,000,000; the Four Courts, built over a century ago at a cost of $1,000,000; the old Parliament House, now the Bank of Ireland and the handsome structure devoted to banking business in the world; Trinity College, founded by Elizabeth and which has turned out such men as Swift, Berkeley, Parnell, Edmund Burke, Grattan and Corra, and Dublin Castle and St. George's Church.

ST. PATRICK'S CATHEDRAL, DUBLIN.

(An historically interesting building, erected over seven hundred years ago.)

Of other historic buildings St. Patrick's Cathedral possesses the greatest interest. Here Swift's body is O'CONNELL MONUMENT AND GLASNEVIN CEMETERY.

Interred, and here also sleeps Hester Johnson, better known to the world as Stella, under which name she is celebrated in the writings of the dean. The cathedral was built in 1190, and was erected on the site of another church that was built by St. Patrick in 448.

The squares of Dublin have always been particularly admired. Of these Stephens Green, Merrion Square and Mountjoy Square are the finest.

The environs of the city are especially interesting and some of them very beautiful. To the west lies the spacious Phoenix Park, one of the first and largest parks in Great Britain, but memorable now rather for its connection with an atrocious crime than on account of its beauty. It was here that Lord Frederick Cavendish and Thomas Henry Burke were assassinated May 8, 1882, by the Invincibles. The Wellington testimonial stands in this park, and is an obelisk 205 feet high, inscribed from base to summit with victories of the "Iron Duke." Wellington was born in Dublin, and the sum of £20,000 was raised by public subscription of the citizens to erect the testimonial to the hero of Waterloo. Glasnevin at the northeastern outlet of Dublin was the favorite residence of Addison, Steele, Swift, and Sheridan, and in its cemetery lie the ashes of Curran and O'Connell. Curran's tomb is a sarcophagus of the Doric order, built of blocks of granite, the largest of which weigh four or five tons each. O'Connell's tomb is a square block, surmounted by a miniature pyramid, and in the vault of the mausoleum the coffin of the "Liberator" may be seen covered with a crimson velvet cloth.

PHOENIX PARK AND WELLINGTON MONUMENT.

Of the more remote and romantic localities adjacent to Dublin is the celebrated Vale of Avoca, whose verdant loveliness and beauty Moore has sung in "The Meeting of the Waters."

There is not in the wide world a valley so sweet As that vale in whose bosom the bright waters meet.

Enthusiastic Angler.

General Maury, who writes the "Recollections of a Virginian," says that when he was in Texas he found Colonel George Crittenden, who was then commanding Fort Inge, to be a man devoted to sport. He one day killed ten deer in nine shots, and he spent day after day in floating about the Leona catching black bass.

He was a wonderful fisherman, and used to find out very quickly whether his soldiers had any qualifications for the "gentle art." When the orderly reported to him at the daily guard-mounting, he would say:

ST. PATRICK'S CATHEDRAL, DUBLIN.

(An historically interesting building, erected over seven hundred years ago.)

"Do you know how to catch minnows?"

"Yes, Colonel."

"Then take my bucket, go to the creek, and catch some." When the man had done the errand, the colonel would say: "You may go to your quarters." For his day's bait was provided.

He was one day telling a brother soldier about his imprisonment in Matamoros, and add:

"I exorcised the wall of that prison, and found a fish in it."

"I'll bet you caught him!" was the answer.

"Indeed, I did," said he, laughing. "I got a pin, made a hook, found a piece of twine, and fished for that fellow till I caught him."

An enthusiastic angler, he was also a most patient one, for he confessed that twice he fished two days in the Tennessee river without getting a bite, he enjoyed it as much as any sport he ever had.

Greatly Tempted.

We hear a great deal about the self-repression of the Scotch, who are even shy of showing their affection to one another, but that species of moderation scarcely exists to day in New England. There was a time when the genuine Puritan felt obliged to resist his impulse to "gush," but his descendants have long ago broken such iron bands. One man, however, has proved his descent from such stern ancestry. He has been married about a year, and is devotedly attached to his wife. His life without her was a hard and solitary one, and in the sunshine she brought him his nature has blossomed out into good deeds and gentle thought.

"You are not as melancholy as you used to be," said an old acquaintance to him not long ago.

"Melancholy? I should say not!" he returned, with emphasis. "I now could anybody be sad with such a wife as I've got? Why, sometimes when I think what she's been to me, it's as much as I can do to keep from showing right out what I think of her!"

Why They Are Shifted.

The shifting about of the admirals of the United States navy necessitated by the approaching retirement of several now commanding in foreign waters is a thing of frequent occurrence, because no rear admiral ever long enjoys that rank on the active list. Of last year's six rear admirals only three remain on the active list. Few of the rear admirals can remain more than three or four years on the active list. Admirals Drum, Greer, Walliser and Stanton, who are among the latest promotions, have been in the service from forty-four to forty-seven years.

Collection of Tickets.

A remarkable collection of old-line Whig, Republican and Democratic election tickets, for all the spring and fall elections since 1841, is possessed and highly prized by Constable William Abrams, Sr., of Frankford, Pa., who is now in his 74th year.

Why Don't They Try It.

Some physicians have arrived at the conclusion that most persons struck by lightning, and to all appearances dead, could be recalled to life by applying the method of artificial respiration in use for resuscitating the drowned.

When the equilibrium between the Nervous and Muscular Systems is destroyed, disease is the direct result, and the remedy that will be most efficacious is the one that will convey to the exhausted nerve tissues the revivifying and vitalizing agents normal to their reconstruction—such a remedy is

LION NERVE TONIC

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS.

Price $1.00 per Bottle, 6 Bottles $5.00, 12 for $10.00, Delivered Express Paid.

LION NERVE TONIC CO., Kansas City, Mo.

LOOK UP THEIR RECORDS.

Knights of Labor Investigating the Votes of Congressmen for Campaign Uses.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Two members of the executive board of the Knights of Labor, J. W. Hayes of Philadelphia, the general secretary and treasurer and B. H. Martin of Minneapolis, have been in Washington for two days working for legislation in the interest of labor. They have canvassed those members of the house who are in the city very generally and their votes on the questions pertaining to the interests of the laboring classes looked into. It is said that these records will be used in the various campaigns for or against the members.

BUYS THE NEW YORK TIMES

M. M. Kohlman, Formerly of Chicago Inter-Ocean, Buys It.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—A special to the Chicago Times from New York says: H. H. Kohlman, of Chicago, before sailing for Europe yesterday, purchased the New York Times as the result of negotiations that have been going on for some time. The price paid is said to be between $225,000 and $250,000. The same property was sold about two years ago for about a million dollars.

A Slight Difference.

The man who had been brought up in a boarding house got a day or two off, with a few dollars in his pocket, and concluded he would go away and have a big time, one of those of which was to buy meals at a swell restaurant. He reached the place and went in to his first breakfast. The piece of resistance was a porter house steak, and he tackled it with great gusto. After a minute or two he called up the waiter.

"What kind of a steak is this?" he asked, with an effort.

"Porterhouse, sir," responded the waiter, with a quarter tip tone of pride.

"Are you sure of that?"

"Certainly, sir. Why?"

"Oh, nothing. I thought possibly you might have misunderstood my order and brought me a boarding house steak."—Detroit Free Press.

A Trade.

The hoarse voice of the lecturer directing the people to turn their attention to the platform at the other end of the curb had admonished them that there was not a moment to lose.

The living skeleton accordingly pressed his hand to his eyes.

"Why," he protested, "do you deceive me?"

"That's my business," calmly retorted the bearded lady, his wife, assuming herself by a glance in the mirror that her whiskers were on straight.—Detroit Tribune.

Explaining It.

A little girl of this city recently gave a forcible though unconscious illustration of what foreigners find a perplexing peculiarity of our language. Her younger brother inquired:

"Do cows give beef and ham?"

"Of course they don't," was the scornful reply. "You ought to know better than that. Cows lay milk."—Washington Star.

A Deadly Revenge.

"You've had a row with Footitt and his wife, I hear, and got the worst of it," said the proprietor of the theater to the stage manager.

"Yes," said the latter gloomily, "but I'll get even with them, you bet."

"How?"

"I'll cast them for the lovers in the next piece."—New York Press.

Superfluous.

Anta—Do you know, I like appearing in the living pictures better than any other kind of show I was ever in.

Etta—Why? What?

Anta—We don't have to have any dress rehearsals, you know.—South Boston News.

No Time to Lose.

Lieutenant—We advanced only five miles yesterday.

Captain of Arctic Expedition—That's what I reckoned it. We've got to do better than that, or our relief expedition will be catching up with us.—Marine Journal.

His Reason.

Jimmy—Why ain't you ridin' your bicycle?

Tummy—De ole man went to de shore an' took along no tires for a life preserver.—Cincinnati Tribune.

NERVE TONIC

RESTORATIVE

IT IS A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY

for Sleeplessness, Neuralgia, Melancholy, Spasms, Sexual Debility, Irregular Heart Beat, St. Vitus' Dance, Hysteria, Back Ache, Headache, Worry, Despondency, Nervousness, Female Irregularities, Hives, Heat Burns, Cramps, Heart Failure, Nervous Prostration, Diabetes and Epilepsy.

Thousands have testified, without solicitation, to the efficacy of this medicine.

FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS.

Price $1.00 per Bottle, 6 Bottles $5.00, 12 for $10.00, Delivered Express Paid.

LION NERVE TONIC CO., Kansas City, Mo.

NORTH TOPEKA.

Items of Interest from the North Side of the River.

Miss Anna Payne attended a party in Kansas City last night.

Mrs. J. C. Fulton went to Kansas City today on a shopping tour.

N. Stanley, a well known citizen of the North side, is reported to have been married recently to a lady in Denver.

Francis Hickey came down from Wamego yesterday to see his sister, who is dangerously sick at the residence of M. L. Potter.

A. J. Stone, who formerly lived here, has returned with his family, from Lincoln, Kansas. They will occupy their old home on Parmore street.

R. B. McMaster, Jr., has returned from a trip through western Kansas along the Union Pacific. He says the country is not so badly damaged by the drought as it is along the Santa Fe.

Go to Will Griffith's for the best tin, galvanized iron and sheet work.

Monarch gasoline stoves at Henry's.

Go to Henry's for roofing and sheeting.

A full leather extension top surrey for $100, at Lukens Bros., North Topeka.

"Our New Delight" and all Dangler stoves at H. M. Climes.

Miss Nora Norris and Miss Ella Sheets returned today from a visit of some weeks to the mountain resorts of Colorado. Miss Sheets was sick much of the time during her absence.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rigby, of 1028 Quincy street, died yesterday afternoon after an existence of but three days. The funeral occurred at 10 o'clock today. The interment was made at Rochester cemetery. Mrs. Rigby is in a very critical condition.

William Towles, a well known citizen, attempted suicide at his home on Silver Lake last night. A physician was summoned, with which he cut his throat, but not deep enough to sever the main artery, and he will probably recover. His wife was aroused about 2 o'clock by hearing him call her from below stairs. When she went down she found him in a pool of his own blood. A physician was summoned at once, and the flow of blood was stopped. Mr. Towles is about sixty years of age and has suffered greatly from asthma and other ailments for a number of years. His ill health is supposed to be the cause of his attempt on his own life.

RING 'ROUND THE WORLD.

A Truck Being Constructed For Columbian Liberty Bell to Travel On.

TERRE HAVEN, Ind., Aug. 23.—The Standard Wheel company of this city has begun work on a truck on which the Columbian Liberty bell, the duplicate of Independence bell, made of metal composed of money and art treasures contributed by the educational institutions of the country will make a tour of the country and nearly all foreign lands.

The workmen at the wheel works will donate their labor. The truck is a big affair, as the bell weighs seven tons. The flanges of the hubs have been made of the overhauled metal at the time the bell was cast. The truck is to be constructed so that it can be used in the streets or rest upon a special railroad car now being made for it in St. Louis.

The bell will go from Chicago next month to the G. A. R. encampment at Pittsburgh and from there to Mexico, where President Diaz is arranging for a grand reception. Andward it will be exhibited in the principal cities of this country, whence it will go to England, France, Germany, Russia and wherever civilization put forward its front and did not recoil.

A NEW REVENUE CUTTER.

U. S. Revenue Cutter Calumet Casting $25,000 keel to Be Launched.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 23.—A 90-foot revenue vessel, named the Calumet, will be turned out of David Bell's shipyard within three weeks, ready for service on the lakes. She will be used chiefly in Chicago harbor and is expected to materially assist in enforcing the new harbor regulations there, as she will be the speediest craft in the harbor.

This is the fifth vessel that has been built here for the United States revenue marine service and the nearest ever built here. The cost is $25,000.

$1.50—Kansas City and Return—$1.50 SUNDAY, SEPT. 23.

Special excursion train Sunday, August 26. Fare $1.00 for the round trip. This is probably the last low rate excursion of the season. Seats free route.

People with hair that is continually falling out, or those that are bald, can stop the falling, and get a good growth of hair by using Hall's Hair Restorer.